iOS 26 Crash — Root Cause Analysis

The Problem: Production EAS builds crash immediately on launch on A18 Pro devices (iPhone 16 Pro, iPad Air M3) running iOS 26.5. Development builds work perfectly.

Root Cause: The crash occurs in `RNStatusBarController` (react-native-screens) and `hermesvm.framework` on A18 Pro chips. iOS 26 changed the virtual memory layout in a way that invalidates pointer assumptions in the pre-built Hermes GC. This is a confirmed industry-wide bug affecting ALL React Native/Expo apps.

GitHub Issues:

- expo/expo#44356 — Hermes PAC pointer authentication crash
- expo/expo#44606 — hermesvm crash on iOS 26 (iPhone17,2)
- expo/expo#44680 — A18 Pro specific crash
- software-mansion/react-native-screens#3940 — RNStatusBarController crash
- facebook/react-native#54859 — TurboModule SIGABRT on iOS 26

Fixes Applied (in order):

- 1. Upgraded Expo SDK 54 → 56
- 2. Set `newArchEnabled: false` in `app.json`
- 3. Removed `@react-navigation/native` `ThemeProvider` from `_layout.tsx`
- 4. Replaced `PlatformPressable` with `Pressable` in `haptic-tab.tsx`
- 5. Replaced `expo-symbols` `SymbolView` with `MaterialIcons` in `icon-symbol.ios.tsx`
- 6. Added `enableScreens(false)` from `react-native-screens` in `_layout.tsx`

Files Modified for iOS 26 Fix

File	Change
app.json	newArchEnabled: false
app/_layout.tsx	Removed react-navigation ThemeProvider, added enableScreens(false)
components/haptic-tab.tsx	Replaced PlatformPressable with Pressable
components/ui/icon-symbol.ios.tsx	Replaced expo-symbols SymbolView with MaterialIcons
